Friday 24th June 2016

Dear Parents/Carers,

The School Council have been busy organising a fundraising event on Friday 1st July for the Anthony Nolan Trust. The Anthony Nolan Trust is a local charity which works to raise money for treating people with blood cancer. The charity will be providing an information sheet for you on the day which will tell you much more about how the money we raise will be used. A representative from the charity will also be coming in on the day to talk to the children in Collective Worship at an appropriate level about how they are helping by raising money.

We are asking that the children come to school on the day dressed in their pyjamas for a donation of £1. Please consider the weather forecast when deciding which pyjamas your child should wear. They are welcome to have slippers to wear in class, but please ensure they are named and they have appropriate footwear to wear outside at break time and lunch time.

The school council are also hoping to run a 'teddy tombola' on the day but this will rely on the kind donations of old teddies to be able to go ahead. If you have a teddy you would like to donate to the cause please send it in with your child to be delivered to Miss Smith in the Martins' classroom. If your child would like to have a go on the teddy tombola on the day, they will need to come to school with a small amount of change to do so, separate from their donation money.

We look forward to seeing children enjoying their 'PJ day' to raise money for this worthy cause.

Yours sincerely

Miss Smith and the School Council
