Friday 5th February 2021

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope that your child has enjoyed their home learning this week. It has been heartening to see that engagement levels with work remain high as we approach the end of week five of remote learning. Once again I'd like to thank you on behalf of everyone at the school for your amazing efforts supporting your child; we know that it is not always easy.

Reward for Commitment To Achieve in Home Learning

Last week we sent rewards through the post to 90 children who had, in a given week, completed the vast majority of their home learning. These rewards were very well received. We would like to send out many more of these packs. We will be reviewing engagement for next week and those children who have high levels of engagement can expect to receive a treat through the post.

Resources to Support Parents With Home Learning

We have uploaded some support materials to our websites in response to parental requests, particularly in English terminology. This can be found at the top of the online learning pages. If there is anything else you would like us to upload that will help you, please let us know.

Wellbeing TEAMS Calls

Hopefully you received our letter regarding our Wellbeing TEAMS calls we intend to begin next week. If not the letters can be found here.

Please remember that if your child wants to take part you need to give consent. That can be done following this link. We have put a deadline of 12.00 p.m. on Monday for this as there is a lot of work to do in the background to set this up. Children who are currently in school some or part of the time are welcome to join the call if they can get home in time to do so.

Reopening of our Schools

At present we are expecting and very much hoping for a full reopening of our schools on Monday 8th March 2021. We will confirm this as soon as we know. We are working very hard to develop another recovery curriculum to ensure children's wellbeing when they return and to close any gaps in learning that may have opened during this latest lockdown.

If there is any support we can give you please just get in touch.

Have a lovely weekend.

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Smith
Executive Headteacher
